

Social and Personal

THE wedding of Mrs. Sue Williams Buck to William H. Massey, of Richmond, was celebrated yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at Mrs. Buck's country home, "Rose Hill," near Greenwood, in Albemarle county. Rev. George W. McDaniel, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, performed the ceremony.

While witnessed only by members of the immediate families and a very few intimate friends, the ceremony was of lively interest to Richmond society, where both the bride and groom are well known, she being the sister of T. C. Williams, Jr., and he a member of the firm of Hobson, Massey & Leigh.

Members of the families went from Richmond to attend the ceremony, among them being Colonel Eugene C. Massey, brother of the groom, and Mrs. Massey, Saunders Hobson, a partner of the groom, and Mrs. Hobson were also present. These, with other near relatives and friends and neighbors of the bride, composed the wedding party.

At a farewell dinner given on Friday at last week to Mr. Massey by Malvern C. Patterson, intimate friends of the groom present were: John T. Anderson, James N. Boyd, Henry E. Baskerville, Charles E. Bolling, M. C. Branch, S. D. Crenshaw, B. H. Grundy, W. M. Habliston, Saunders Hobson, Levin Joyner, Egbert G. Leigh, Jr., Eugene C. Massey, D. W. McDaniel, Frank Nalle, Dr. W. T. Oppenheimer, L. R. Page, Ashton Starke, W. B. Tennant, Joseph E. Willard, T. G. Williams, Jr., Coleman Wortham and Dr. J. A. White.

Minnes, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Minnes, to Herbert Clinton Whitehurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehurst, was celebrated at 8:30 o'clock yesterday evening, in Centenary Methodist church, the Rev. J. N. Latham officiating.

The church was decorated with palms, bay trees and cathedral candles, interspersed with white chrysanthemums. The chandeliers were wreathed in smilax and chrysanthemum blossoms. The entrance of the bride party was made to the strains of "Lobengrin" wedding march. Nivins' "Venetian Love Song" was played during the ceremony, and Tannhauser's march was the recessional.

Mrs. Bruce Bowe, wearing white satin, veiled with green marquisette, wore shell pink crepe meller, trimmed in silver flowers. She held an armful of white chrysanthemums and a bouquet of pink and white roses. The flower girls, Edna and Adele Young, were very dainty in white chiffon frocks, hand-embroidered and pink ribbons. They had baskets of pink and white roses. Robert V. Whitehurst was best man, and the others attendants: Clarence Nash, of Norfolk; Lewis Larus, of New York; William Forbes and Henry Froehling, of Richmond; Stryker Freeman, Meredith Montague and Triplet Montague, of New York.

The bride came in with her brother-in-law, Bruce Bowe, who gave her in marriage. She was gowning in white crepe meller, hand-wrought, with pearls, berries and yoke of lace. A crown of orange blossoms held the folds of her veil, the groom's gift, a diamond pendant was set in ornament, and her flowers were lilacs of the valley and white orchids.

Following the church ceremonial, a small reception was held at 1323 G Street, for the bride party, intimate friends and out-of-town guests. A background for the receiving party was a screen of white chrysanthemums against palms. The hall was in pink and chrysanthemums were used in staircase ornamentation. In the dining room doral halls were suspended and pink roses and chrysanthemums were used on the table, and to give the color tone to a lattice work of smilax and maiden hair ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst later in the evening left for a Canadian tour. Out-of-town guests at church and reception included Miss Mary Harman, of the University of Virginia; Miss Bessie Carter and Mrs. James Carter, of Danville; Mrs. Theodore Bozart, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gunther, of Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald Wren, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. David H. H. Smith, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Thorp, Herman Allyn and Bessie Merritt, of Norfolk; Miss Grace Pittman, of Baltimore; T. C. Atkinson, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Bransford Adams, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. Menalcus Lankford, of Norfolk; Edward Price, of Blacksburg, and many others.

Ante-nuptial Entertainments.
Numerous ante-nuptial entertainments were given in honor of the bride and groom. The first of the week preceding the Whitehurst-Milnes wedding. At a dinner given by Herbert Clinton Whitehurst Tuesday evening, the color scheme was pink and white, and the guests were: Misses Marie and Rosalie Milnes, Mary Harman, Bessie Carter, Grace Pittman, Mrs. Bruce Bowe, Mrs. Robert Whitehurst, Mrs. James Irvin, Bruce Bowe, Nash Reid, Stryker Freeman, William J. Larus, William Forbes, Lewis Larus and Robert Whitehurst.

Mrs. Stuart Bowe gave a small tea Monday afternoon to Miss Marie Milnes and her house guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tallafiero were hosts at a supper in the Commonwealth Club Monday night, in their honor. The color scheme was pink and white, and the guests were: Mrs. Bruce Bowe, Mrs. Robert Whitehurst, Mrs. James Irvin, Bruce Bowe, Nash Reid, Stryker Freeman, William J. Larus, William Forbes, Lewis Larus and Robert Whitehurst.

Washington, November 15.—The marriage of Miss Katherine B. Milton, daughter of Mrs. Roberta Milton, and David H. Luttrell, of Falls Church, Va., took place to-day at noon at Epiphany church. An effective decoration of palms, autumn leaves and white chrysanthemums was used in the chancel, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Leonard Peter. The bride was attired in a smart tailored suit of dark blue cloth, with a dark blue velvet hat. She carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Nancy M. Milton, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor, and her gown was of pale green silk, trimmed with white plumes. Her bouquet was of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Misses Nathaniel Luttrell, and the ushers were William Brown, Richard Taylor, Ralph Williams and Ernest Smith.

After the ceremony the bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip, there being no reception. The bride wore a tulle veil and orange blossoms.

Her sister, Miss Roberta Wallace Harper, was the maid of honor, and her gown was of pale green silk.

Miss Edith Mangum, Miss Louise Boyd, Miss Elizabeth Klefer, Miss Elsie Shinn, Miss Maud Edmunds, Miss Mabel Chapin, Miss Isabelle Collins and Mrs. Anna Howser, all members of the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, the Metropolitan school class, preceded the wedding party to the altar.

The best man was Dr. Earl Clark, brother-in-law of the bride. The bridesmaids were Misses Harper, Randolph M. Harper, J. William Harper and Lester Holt, brother-in-law of the groom.

A small reception followed at the bride's apartment on Park Road, to which only the bride party, relatives and a few intimate friends were invited.

Dr. Trow and his bride will return here for Thanksgiving, before going to their future home in Hollywood.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. William N. Wise, Mrs. Joseph Carter, and Mrs. Harper, all of Leesburg, Va., and Miss Mary Vass, of Culpeper, Va.

Washington, November 16.—At the wedding of Miss Charlotte Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Randolph Lee, and Harry Munn, which took place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, the ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Harry Lee, of Charlottesville, Va., assisted by the pastor of St. Andrew's, Rev. Jay Johnson Dimon.

The bride wore the conventional white satin, with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and was given away by her father.

The maid of honor, Miss E. Lane Williams, wore a white chiffon veil and yellow satin, and the decorations were all yellow, relieved with palms and ferns.

Harvey Munn was best man, owing to mourning in the groom's family, and the guests of the bride and groom were most intimate friends of the young couple.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Lee, the bride's grandmother, of Berryville, Va.; Mrs. Nancy Coville and Lee Coville, of Winchester, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gerrard, of the Mission Garden, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chamberlain, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Lee and Dr. M. R. TRAINING SCHOOL TO BE CONDUCTED

Will Be for Benefit of Sunday-School Workers of Petersburg.

INJURIES MAY BE FATAL

Marker Placed at Historic Spot on the Colonial Heights.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., November 16.

An institute or training school for Sunday school workers, under the auspices of the Baptist Sunday School Association of Petersburg and vicinity, will be held in the First Baptist Church in this city on November 23-25, inclusive, and the school is expected to be of great interest and instruction to Sunday school workers of all denominations.

The Baptist Association of Petersburg and vicinity is composed of eight schools, five in the city and three in Chesterfield county—Woodlawn, Ettrick and Matoaca. It has an average membership of between 1,000 and 1,500 members, teachers and scholars, and its officers are: President, J. P. Stephenson; Vice-President, J. R. Sutherland; Secretary, T. E. Adkins; Treasurer, John E. Seay.

The training school will be under the direction of Rev. Joseph T. Watts, Sunday school director of the Baptist State Mission Board, a man of large experience in all phases of Sunday school work, who will present vital subjects, in addition to directing the work.

Mr. Watts will be assisted by Miss Margaret A. Frost, of Nashville, Tenn., an expert in all matters relating to the elementary department of the Sunday school; Arthur Flake and J. P. Leavelle, field secretaries of the Sunday School Board, at Nashville, the former an expert in organization and management, and the latter in teaching. Daily lectures will be delivered by the director and assistants on matters of vital interest.

Injuries Believed Fatal.
The condition of Robert M. Ellis, the Norfolk and Western construction foreman, whose skull was badly fractured by a blow with a heavy stick by a negro workman named John Spain, on the belt line, in Dinwiddie county, yesterday, is very unfavorable and critical to-day. The belief is that death will result during the night, and in all probability the charge of murder will be brought against the negro if he is ever caught.

Spain has so far escaped arrest, though pursued by posses. Bloodhounds were placed on his tracks yesterday evening and trailed the fugitive for many miles, but it is said finally lost scent of him.

Wedding Invitations.
Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Lillian, to Benjamin Stockton Woolston, to take place in Trinity M. E. Church, Salisbury, Md., November 29. Mr. Edwards is the presiding elder of the Eastern Shore District, in which Salisbury is a member. He was formerly pastor of Market Street Church, in this city. The bride has many friends in Petersburg.

B. Mason Hill, of this city, announces the engagement of his sister, Miss Almira O. Hill, to LeRoy Hodges, of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D'Oville Adkins, of this city, have issued invitations to out-of-town friends to the marriage of their daughter, Lillian Alice, to Alvan S. Rosser, of Outland, of Richmond. The wedding will be celebrated November 22 at 8:30 o'clock P. M., in the home of the bride's parents, on Franklin Street.

Marker Placed.
Frances Bland Randolph Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has placed a marker on the Colonial (Chesterfield) Heights, opposite this city, to designate the spot from which in 1781, General Lafayette's army, the British forces, then holding Petersburg. The British headquarters were in the Bolling house, on East Hill, which was the special mark of General Lafayette's guns.

The chapter some time ago erected in old Blenheim Church a beautiful tablet, suitably inscribed, to the memory of the Revolutionary heroes.

Personal and Otherwise.
Only one change is made in the Methodist pulpits in Petersburg, and that was rendered necessary by reason of a vacancy. The Rev. George E. Booker, of Epworth Church, is appointed to Washington Street Church to succeed the Rev. H. H. Reeves, resigned. The congregation is greatly pleased at the appointment.

The Library Building, a three-story brick structure at the corner of Sycamore and Bollingbrook Streets, which was purchased some time ago by the Virginia Railway and Power Company at a cost of $20,000, is soon to be remodeled and improved by the company for its headquarters. The improvements will cost some thousands of dollars additional.

The Hustings Court will begin its November term to-morrow with a number of cases on the Commonwealth's docket for trial.

Plans are on foot for the capitalization of the Southside Agricultural Association for the holding of annual fairs in this city. The recent fair proved so successful that it is designed to place the association on a permanent and firm basis, and the people of the Southside heartily favor the scheme.

Officers Nominated.
At the regular meeting of Petersburg Lodge, F. O. Eagles, No. 82, last night, officers for the ensuing term were nominated as follows: Worthy President, W. H. Raftery; Worthy Vice-President, George A. Bowers; Worthy Chaplain, J. M. Sanders; Secretary, C. G. Pleasants; treasurer, Joel T. Brown; Inside Guard, John Sherrer; Outside Guard, W. L. Wheelhouse; Trustees, James W. Wells, Charles L. Seyler and Julian T. French; Physician, Dr. W. Pryor Jones.

The election will be held December 5, and nominations are open until then. New by-laws were adopted.

GRAND JURY FAILS TO MAKE ANY INDICTMENTS
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., November 16.—A special grand jury, having been in session for five continuous days, since November 9, failed to make any indictments against members of the mob which liberated John Moore, the condemned murderer of C. C. Howl, sentenced to electrocution November 26, returned into court to-day and stated that they have completed their investigation and were unable to make any indictments. About eighty witnesses were summoned before the grand jury. Moore was set free from prison on October 20.

FORMER GOVERNORS TO TAKE PART IN CAMPAIGN
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Suffolk, Va., November 16.—Leaders of the Citizens' League, which is conducting the campaign for the election in Suffolk, pending the local option election, announced to-day that they are planning to have some distinguished speakers among them being former Governor Glenn and former Governor Aycock, both of North Carolina, and John E. Brown, an evangelist now in Mexico. The speakers declared that "the people leading this fight do not propose to stand for personal abuse and mud-slinging from public speakers, either imported or domestic." The alternative was not stated.

Injured in Runaway Accident.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Culpeper, Va., November 16.—While out driving this afternoon near their home at Mitchell's Station, the team became frightened and ran away, throwing out and seriously injuring Mrs. Slaughter, wife of D. A. Slaughter, ex-member of the Legislature from this county, and her niece, Miss Corolla Sommerville.
